Chilean Citrus Committee

The Chilean Citrus Committee is an entity that forms part of the Chilean Fruit Exporters Association (ASOEX) and its members represent 73% of the total volume of citrus exported from Chile to the world.

Our main goal is to broaden the offer of high quality citrus fruits which comply with the strictest food safety standards. We aim to satisfy the most demanding markets and gain recognition with a product that is fresh, tasty and from a trustworthy source.

The Chilean Citrus Committee members are committed to quality, food safety and sustainability.

Chile's country location in the southernmost region of the American continent along the Pacific coast provides privileged geographical and Mediterranean climatic conditions for citrus production. Chile is the one-stop shop for everything fresh, offering more than 30 different species of fresh fruit, including lemons, clementines, mandarins, navel oranges and grapefruit, all of which are characterized by their distinctive colour, flavour, firmness and aroma. Chile is ranked as the second largest exporter of citrus from the Southern Hemisphere.

Why Citrus from Chile? Summer Citrus!

Chilean lemons add abundant flavor to a variety of dishes, contain unique flavonoid compounds that have antioxidant and anti-cancer properties!

Chilean mandarins are really wonderful. They are easy to peel, easy to eat, juicy and very sweet.

Chilean navel oranges are fantastic eaten fresh because they have a nice balance of sweet and tart.
